Caprice, Owned by Big Tim Sullivan, Is Second at Long Odds Without a Dollar Bet on Her by the Clan-Free Badges Are Taken From Layers' Clerks.

There were just two instances at Sheepsneed Bay yesterday in which the owners and trainers of horses were wrong in their calculations. When Senator McCarren's Edna Jackson, a full sister to Reliable, won the Vernai Stakes the Senator and his friends were dumfounded. The filly went up in the betting to as much as 40 to 1 in some of the books, but McCarren did not believe she had an outside chance and did not bet a dollar on her, even to show. Newton Ben-bington, who once owned her, also had no faith in her chances and allowed her to run unbacked, but the trainer of the filly, Fred Burlew, at the last moment decided to make a paltry wager of $25 on her simply because of the big odds. In the betting ring the layers received nothing but small wagers on the Watercress filly, so that her victory was hailed with delight by them. Second to Edna Jackson ran Caprice, a filly by Hamburg-Admiration, 'recently purchased at the Whitney sale by Timothy D. Sullivan. There was as much as 60 to 1 against her, yet the Sullivan clan, acting upon the advice of Trainer Archie Zimmer, did not bet a nickel her. She was beaten only a nose, and the lamentations of the Tammany crowd were loud and long. Zimmer believed that James R. Keene's Early and Often could not lose, but he said that Running Water a place was the best bet in the race. Later the Sul-livans got down hook, line and sinker on Arabo, who carried the absent Congress-man's colors in the fifth race, but he met a

Dave Gideon was rather warm under the collar when Cinchona, who won the first race in his colors, was bid up to $2,500 by a man who gave his name as Joe Buenacore. Gideon's trainer protected the colt with an extra $5 bid and half the amount of the runup, $750, went to Fred Burlew, who ran second with Lawsonian. Nobody seemed to know Buenacore, who said that he bid on the coit simply because he wanted him, but there was a rumor that he acted as an associate of Joe Marrone, the old Guttenburger, and Marty Bergen, the veteran jockey. Gideon could not believe that Bergen had a hand in the game, and was making inquiries about Buenaore all the afternoon.

Lawsonian, a fine colt by Plaudit-Miss Pry, was also in demand after the race. Sam Hildreth, J. W. May, R. L. Rogers, A. J. Joyner and Bill Daly hurried to the secretary's office and put in claims for him. After throwing dice to settle the question, Father Bill got the colt and quickly sold him back to Burlew at a profit of $300.

As a sequel of the bidding up of August Belmont's Lord of the Forest on Saturday Belmont's Lord of the Forest on Saturday 16 turns out that Joyner, acting presumably for Mr. Belmont, claimed Ladsarion from Boots Durnell and took the colt away to his stable. When Durnell learned of his loss he said to a crowd of friends:

"Why I didn't bid up Mr. Belmont's horse!
I wouldn't do such a thing, for in France once I bid up a steward's horse and was ruled off for it!"

Why, I didn't bid up Mr. Belmont's horse!

I wouldn't do such a thing, for in France once I bid up a steward's horse and was ruled off for it!"

There was a supplementary closing of entries for the Saratoga Cup on Saturday, and among those named for this race at a mile and three-quarters were H. P. Whitney's Artful, Alex Shields's Go Between and Sydney Paget's Cairmoorn.

So unexpectedly large was the crowd at the track yesterday that the supply of programs gave out before the first race, and hundreds who arrived late had to get along without them. There could be no excuse for this bit of poor management.

The Coney Island Jockey Club is determined that bookmakers and their employees shall not enjoy free privileges at the gates. Last week a well known layer who tried to get in with a complimentary badge was stopped and compelled to buy a $3 ticket. Yesterday twelve free badges were taken away from bookmakers' sheet writers, cashiers and outside men who tried to pass the stiles with them. When the books were notified that a revenue would be no longer received from them they were warned that all of their crews would have to pay the usual 33 tariff. It was also set forth by the track managers that horse owners and trainers who were employed in any capacity by the books could not use the badges contiscated yesterday were several that had been given to owners and trainers, together with a number of complimentaries. More badges will be taken up to-day if offered by persons similarly employed. As each book requires the everyces of about six men, the track will receive $18 a day, or about a third of the old revenue of $57.

revenue of $57.

While Gideon, Charley Cash, Jesse Lewisohn, George Wheelock and others had big bets on Cinchona in the first race Fred Burlew had a heavy killing framed with Lawsonian, who was beaten by a small margin by Cinchona. Lawsonian was played from 8 to 1 down to fours, the Lichtensteins betting on him across the board, while Dave Johnson, Newton Bennington, Bill Jackman, Charley Heney, Louis Snell and Henry Schoffs put down some good straight wagers. Orlando Jones took Lord Provost, Tom Lloyd played Tickle and Bill Forter split a bet on Edith James.

Many of the chalkers would not take a wager on Artful at any price, feeling that they would simply be giving away money. The clubhouse commissioners were ready to bet an unlimited amount on Artful, but they met a case of "combined frozen face" from the bookies who turned their slates. Joe Ullman paid $500 for the temporary belief that Bearcatcher could beat the winner of last year's Futurity.

Al Dryer, who usually bets for Drake and Gtes, put $5,000 on the Keene filly Early and Often in the Vernal Stakes. He was followed by such players as Dave Johnson, Kid Hogers, Ed McDonald, Joe Hayman, the Lichtensteins and the clubhouse agents, who loaded the books with wealth at 4 to 5. John W. Schorr split $500 on Running Water, while Tom Plunkett wagered $500 on Last Cherry to show.

Boots Durnell and his Western associates cleaned up neatly with Elwood in the fifth race. They got their money on at the last moment, securing $ to 1. Joe Hayman and Kid Rogers made the biggest bets on Thistle Heather, Jack McDonald and Charley Fox went to Atwood, Wheelock dropped a liberal wager on Supreme Court, and the clubhouse as well as the Sullivans took Arabo.

PROPER WINS IN A GALLOP

TAKES LONG ISLAND HANDICAP AT GOOD ODDS.

Hamburg Belle Ontside the Money-Edna Jackson, 20 to 1, Captures Vernal Stakes in Hot Finish-Artful Breezes Home-20,000 at the Sheepshead Track

W.B.Jennings's Proper, 7 to 2 second choice, monwealth Handicap on Saturday, was started in the Long Island Handicap, one mile and a furlong, yesterday at Sheepshead Bay, and, although a majority of the wise men did not care for his chances, he won in a gallop, Sydney Paget's Hamburg Belle, with 126 pounds, was the favorite, closing at 11 to 10, after opening at even money. She gave nine pounds to Colonial Girl, 6 to 1, who ran second; twelve pounds to Proper, twenty to Dande twenty-nine to Ostrich and thirty-three to Marmee, 15 to 1, who got third money The start was bad, so bad in fact that the crowd hooted. Proper and Marmee both got away running, while the others were caught unawares. Marmee led to the far turn, where Proper, with Burns up, ran over her easily and romped home, with six lengths to spare, in 1:54 3-5. Colonial Girl also closed strong, and took the place from Marmee by two lengths. Hamburg Belle, who got a poor ride from O'Neill, was three parts of a length out of the money.

Five horses finished heads apart in the Vernal Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, five fur-longs on Futurity course. Senator McCarren's Edna Jackson, 20 to 1, was the winner, with T. D. Sullivan's Caprice, 40 to 1, in the place and Woodford Clay's Running Water, 4 to 1, third. James R. Keene's Voter filly, Early and Often, who was one of the hottest favor-ites of the day, was fourth, with Last Cherry, another long shot, close up. It was a drive all through the stretch from the bend in the track, only the judges being able to discriminate at the wire. The race was run in 1:00 4-5. H. P. Whitney's Artful again showed her greatness by winning the second race, at six furlongs, in a gallop. She was a prohibitive favorite, and gave fifteen pounds to Boarcatcher, who chased her home, two lengths away, and also fifteen pounds to Eugenia Burch, who was third, half a dozen lengths the place. Artful led all the way and hung up 1:14 3-5. Days Gidgen's Co. 1:14:3-5 ave Gideon's Cinchona, 3 to 2, took the trace, for two-year-olds, five furlongs, only after a drive, in which he beat Fred rlew's Lawsonian, backed down to 4 to 1, half a length. H. T. Griffin's Aviston, 1, was three lengths back, the time being

o to 1, was three lengths boat, the bank of 159 4-5.

Boots Durnell cut loose a good thing in Elwood, 8 to 1, in the fifth race, for platers, at a mile. Moriarity, a stable boy, had the mount and rode a fine race. He waited with Flwood until he had a chance to get through on the rail when the far turn was reached. Then he shot to the front and, leaving the others, won by three lengths in 141 1-5. William Astor Chanler's Novena, the total race believe morey from Atword 7 to 15. 1.41 1-5. William Astor Chanler's Novena, to 1, took place money from Atwood, 7 to 1, four lengths. Thistle Heather and Arabo, 15 to 1, took place money from Atwood, 7 to 1, by four lengths. Thistle Heather and Arabo, equal favorites, burned up a fortune.

Eleven horses were scratched from the last race, one mile and a sixteenth on the grass. R. T. Wilson, Jr. 's, Dolly Spanker was hammered down to 11 to 5 favorite, with Fred Johnson's Schulamite and S. S. Brown's Broadcloth both carrying much wealth at 13 to 5. Schulamite went off in front like a wild horse, but when Baird got ready to pass him with Dolly Spanker, the latter's rush was irresistible, and he came home alone with half a dozen lengths to spare in 146, a new track record. Broadcloth, under a drive, beat Schumalite by three parts of a length for the place, with John A. Drake's Joc'. The same margin behind. The crowd was one of the largest on record for a Monday, fully 20,000 persons passing the turnstiles. Three tavorites got the money over a good track. The summaries.

HART KNOCKS OUT ROOT. Kentuckian Takes Title of Champion

Relinquished by Jeffries. RENO, July 3.-The finish fight for the heavyweight championship of the world by courtesy of James Jeffries and a purse of $5,000 this afternoon between Jack Root of Chicago and Marvin Hart of Louisville ended in the twelfth round in favor of Hart, who knocked out Root with a right short arm jolt to the body. This result was predicted by most experts who saw the two men before the battle, as the Kentuckian looked entirely too big and strong for his Hart's assertion that Root could not put him out was demonstrated as true, although in the seventh round if Hart had received the knockdown blow early in the round he probably could not have lasted out the round. It was a fierce slugging contest, but at no time did Hart show any cleverness. Root in his anxiety to land punishing bows early in the fight frequently exposed himself and Hart was quick to take advantage of these openings, but in boxing Root landed five blows to Hart's one. Had Root had the steam he possessed a few years ago the Kentuckian would not have lived through the heavy blows to the body.

The neat and glare of the sunlight obviously affected Root and were responsible for his frequent failures to connect in right and left swings to the jaw. The heat evi-dently did not faze the big Kentuckian, who had become used to it by training in who had become used to it by training in the sun.

The crowd was large and good natured, but even its patience was exhausted by bad management and long delays. Root weighed 170 pounds and Hart 190.

Jim Jeffries received a splendid reception when he appeared, and every one seemed to feel that there could be nothing crooked in the affair, as the ex-champion swore if they tried any funny business he would whip them himself. There was a division of the gate receipts on the basis of 65 per cent. to the winner and 35 per cent. to the loser.

Root's seconds were Battling Nelson, Teddy Alexander and Paddy Mackey. Bill Gallagher of San Francisco held a watch for Root. Hart's seconds were Jack McCormick, Deafy Thompson, Jack Roberts, Hal Updike and Lee Updike. The timekeeper was Albert Updike.

Hart's seconds were Jack McCormick, Deary Thompson, Jack Roberts, Hal Updike and Lee Updike. The timekeeper was Albert Updike. The timekeeper was Albert Updike. The men entered the ring at 2:45 o'clook, but a tedious wait followed while the gloves were inspected and the usual preliminaries arranged. Hart won the toss for corners and chose one with his back to the sun. It was sweltering hot, the mercury standing at over 100 degrees.

The first round was about even, Hart landing easily several times because of Root's desire to connect with the jaw. The next two rounds were Root's, as he landed heavy blows to the jaw and body and received few punishing blows.

Hart evened it upa trifle in the fourth round, delivering good body punishment, but in the fifth Root struck a great gait, hammering Hart in the body, uppercutting him and landing fierce jolts on the jaw.

The sixth was about even, but in the seventh Root again tore loose and after landing again and again knocked Hart down with a right to the body. Hart's seconds made a protest of foul, but Jeffries would not allow it. The gong probably saved Hart, as he was groagy.

He came up strong and stalled through the eighth, and in the ninth round recovered and had a slight lead. The next two rounds were about even, Hart gaining in confidence and Root evidently tiring badly.

In the twelfth Root ducked several vicious flings that would have put him out. He uppercut Hart and hit him in the face, but exposed himself, and Hart's short arm jolt to the body delivered with terrific force knocked him out.

The knockout blow was entirely unexpected. Hart shot his right around in a semicircle. Root's stomach was unprotected. The Kentuckian's heavy fist sank into the stomach muscles and Root doubled up in agony. He reached his arm for the rope, but could not lift himself and rolled on the canvas as he was counted out. The betting just before the fight was 3 to 1 in favor of Root.

YACHTS IN DRIFTING MATCH Capt. Barr Coaxes Mineola In Before Yankee in American Y. C. Regatta.

Of the thirty-nine yachts that started in the nnual regatta of the American Yacht Club yesterday only five succeeded in getting over the course. There was almost a flat calm nearly all day, and the weather conditions were the most exasperating and annoying that yachtsmen can experience. It was terribly hot, and with not a breath of wind and not even the excitement of racing to keep their minds from the uncomfortable conditions it was no wonder that all were rather ill tempered when they reached shore after dark last night.

If the weather conditions had been good the regatta would have been one of the best of the season. The two 70-footers Mineola and Yankee raced in their class, three 33-footers, Mimosa III., Memory and Nike, met, and twelve of the New York Yacht Club 30-footers raced, in addition to several other boats in other classes. These three classes were the only ones that made races The Mineola, Yankee, Nike, Nautilus and Neola II, were the only boats to finish. The yachts were started at 2:55 o'clock off the Scotch Caps and the course given by the committee was southwest 1/4 south 21/4 miles, then east by south 31/4 miles and then miles, then east by south 3½ miles and then northwest by north 3½ miles. This made a total of 9½ miles. There was then a very light wind from the east and the Yankee and Mineola were sent off, with the Yankee in the lead. They slowly made the first mark, where the Yankee was two minutes ahead of the Mineola, and then went on to the second mark.

On this leg the wind came from the southwest and still the Yankee managed to keep in front, but on the third leg the Mineola gradually picked up the leader and finally drifted across the line, a winner by 8 minutes 12 seconds. In the 33 foot class the Nike was the only boat to finish and in the New York Yacht Club class the Nautilus beat the Neola II. by 8 minutes 27 seconds. These were the only two to finish. Capt. Barr, who arrived here on Saturday, sailed the Mineola. The summary:

One by one the bearded ball player is passing. Monte Cross now appears "in our midst" with countenance ravished by the razor. "Why is this thus!" was asked of Griffith, who is au jair on matters of form, the other day, referring to beardlessness on the ball field. "Pew public characters of any sort wear whiskers," was the sententious response.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—Barring a vigorous and picturesque exception to decisions on the part of Donlin and Dahlen and a mild sort of complaint from Manager McGraw, which led to his retirement from the bench,
to-day's game between New York and Philadelphia was becomingly mild and inoffensive.
The New Yorkers simply played rings around the Philadelphians, who did not appear able to realize on their resources. Four solid hits were made in succession in the fourth inning, but all they could get out of them was one solitary run. On the other hand, the visitors made their hitting count, running the bases daringly and yet with good judgment.
Towley did not give a pass and had the Taylor did not give a pass and had the advantage of perfect support. Two of Corridon's bases on balls figured, and the errors of the men behind him were costly. The score:
